A MESSAGE

from the President

It can be safely said that the 2019-2020 academic year presented interesting, and might I say unprecedented challenges! However, the presence and effect of the COVID-19 crises also provided us the opportunity to discover and demonstrate the type of character that has helped this institution survive other points in history that called upon the resolve of those that called Central home.

I am thankful to God for His provisions and foresight to gather this group of people here for such a time as this. The Faculty, staff, and students demonstrated extraordinary flexibility, resilience, and unity as together we faced the challenges before us. Because of that, I can faithfully report that Central's mission remains secure. In fact, it is this mission – to provide a Christ-Centered Education for Character – our shared faith in Christ, and our desire to honor Him that has sustained and enabled us to live out that Christ-centered character.

When I have the opportunity to speak to prospective students, I often challenge them not to settle for a college experience that offers only a diploma, when they can have so much more. It is this aspect – the so much more – that makes Central distinctive. We simply are not in the business of just producing diplomas. Our mission compels us to reach for something higher – something that is only defined through a metamorphosis of character.

The pursuit of Christ and His character demands more. At the very least, it demands a pilgrimage into the very core of heart, soul, mind and strength – to discover God, His Call, and His invitation to partner in the good work before us.

I pray that as you read this report, you will be inspired by the work of CCEK. Her mission continues to grow, and while I thank God, I also express my thanks to you. It is your participation, your support, and your prayers that make all this possible. So, thank you for your partnership and trust.

Together we can truly achieve more.

GOLF TEAM SERVES AT RMHC

In January 2020, Central's golf team traveled to Wichita, KS to help out at the Ronald McDonald House Charities, (RMHC.) The RMHC has a special place in Athletic Director Kyle Moody's heart as they helped his youngest child, Ezekiel "Zeke" – born premature – fight for his life. Zeke would end up making it despite the doctors saying they should say their goodbyes.

The Moodys and the CCKC golf team wanted to give back to RMHC and help those that are going through similar trials and served in a variety of ways.

GYM FLOOR TO RECEIVE A MAKEOVER

It's an exciting time for the athletic department! In recent years the need for a new gym floor has been on the forefront of many a conversation.

As plans for the project were being made, Barry McKeown, a friend of both Jerry Alexander and Ellis Odermann, decided to join in on the project. Barry's gift in honor of his friends made the new gym floor a reality.

The Athletic program is looking forward to creating many lasting memories on the new court.

"We are thankful for Barry's financial gift that made this new floor possible, and to Ellis and Jerry for their years of service to Central. This is a wonderful step forward for our athletics department as well as the teams that will be playing on the new court!"

TIGER MEN TAKE 2019 MAYOR'S CUP

The Central men's and women's basketball teams battled crosstown rival McPherson College in the 2nd Annual Mayor's Cup. The brain child of McPherson Mayor Tom Brown, this annual matchup brings both colleges together in a fierce competition at the McPherson

Roundhouse. After a dominating 2018 victory in the first matchup, the men's team had the opportunity to take the cup for the 2nd year in a row. And win they would, going on to take the victory with a score of 77-70, retaining the Mayor's Cup.

SOFTBALL HONORS

On the verge of a breakout season, the Lady Tigers (Softball) found their season cut short due to the COVID-19 pandemic. However, their work did not go unnoticed, as the Sooner Athletic Conference recognized a number of standout players including First Team honorees Hannah Hoffmann (Salida, CA) and Altavia Hall (Freeport Grand, Bahamas); Second Team honorees Taylor Bourne (Upland, CA), Ashton Nelson (Amarillo, TX), Haley Lewis (Farmersville, TX), and Nicole Herrera (Hesperia, CA); and Golden Glove recipient Karina Flores (Chino, CA).

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL COMING TO CENTRAL

With the growing momentum of men's volleyball the Central Christian College Athletic Department will be adding men's volleyball as its 15th NAIA sponsored program. Coach Ryan Webb will oversee the men's program while still overseeing the women's program. Athletic Director Kyle Moody is excited for the installment of the program and can't wait to see the success it adds to Tiger Athletics.

SHUKUTOKU UNIVERSITY VISITS CENTRAL

Thanks to the incredible work by our International Student Coordinator, Ms. Hatsue Aizawa, Central forged a new friendship and partnership with Shukutoku University in Japan.

In early February, 2020, nine exchange students from Shukutoku University visited campus for two weeks. Led by alumna Mrs.

Annie Hall (CC '19), and Mr. Daniel Parry, the exchange students visited a number of places in and around the McPherson area. During their time here, they were able to interact with several of Central's students during different activities, saw what life was like in the U.S. by staying at host homes, and took English classes taught by Mr. Daniel Parry.

CENTRAL STUDENTS AND STAFF ENGAGE WITH THE COMMUNITY

Engage is an annual “spiritual emphasis week” run by Student Life each September. This year's theme was “Made Alive” – as in we are “made alive with Christ” from Ephesians 2.

Pastor Andy Addis of CrossPoint in Hutchinson, KS joined us once again as our speaker for the three day event. He challenged the students to realize their full potential in Christ.

On the final day, Central faculty, staff, and students went out into the community of McPherson (and surrounding areas) to serve as the hands and feet of Christ.

All in all, Central was able to save the local community approximately $9,000 in labor. Yet, the biggest victory of the event came when a number of students committed their lives to the Lord as a result of Engage 2019!

HOMECOMING 2019

It was a busy October weekend when alumni and friends joined us for the Inauguration of President Favara and Homecoming 2019.

Our 2019 Homecoming theme, No Place Like Home, rang true as alumni, friends, and students enjoyed Music on the Plaza, the Friday night Coronation and Basketball Showcase, Soccer and Volleyball conference games, an Art Demonstration, Class Reunions, Pie with the President, reconnecting with classmates and friends, and much more!

CCCK CHRISTMAS

Each year around finals time, the Office of Student Life holds a week of events known as “Exam Cram”. This week of nightly events, including pizza and red bull, late night breakfast, and movie nights is a tradition passed down through the years.

This year, the decision was made to add a twist to the late night breakfast by incorporating it with the Central Family Christmas.

Parents and guardians were asked to provide a personalized gift for their student. They sent it in to the college, we wrapped it, and gave it away. Unfortunately, we were several gifts short this year – but our faculty and staff filled the gap so that every student received a personalized gift. You can imagine the students' surprise when they walked in and realized that the gifts that were wrapped by the stage were not fake – they were real – and they were for the students! Even Santa Claus visited.

The vibe and atmosphere of the evening has been described as the most “electric” exam cram event in over 15 years.

CHANEY MUSIC SYMPOSIUM 2019

In February, the Central Music Department was pleased to host guest choral director Dr. Bradley Vogel for the annual Chaney Music Symposium. The choir for the event consisted of CCKC's Una Voce and area High School choirs bringing the total choir to 32 vocalists.

Each school choir performed individual works followed by the entire choir, which performed Come Thou Fount of Every Blessing and Holy, Holy, Holy, both arranged by Dr. Vogel.

THE HOUNDS OF BASKERVILLE

Directed by Mr. Chris Gates (CC '05), Chair of the Communicative Arts Department, Baskerville: A Sherlock Holmes Mystery told the story of Sherlock Holmes' (played by sophomore, James Parry) and Dr. John Watson's (played by junior Luke Koerperich) investigation into the mystery of several deaths via a hound. Holmes and Watson team up with Sir Hugo Baskerville (played by freshman Tauren Greer) in order to help solve the mystery.

For the creation of the set, Gates conscripted the help of his actors and stage crew. He went about using mostly cardboard to create the set – a unique, interesting, practical and, ultimately, successful idea.

When asked about the performance, Director Chris Gates stated, "I came across this script 5 years ago, and decided to wait until the right time to put it up. I am glad I waited until now, because I loved working on it with this group. There were so many moving parts to this production that to do it well you must have a dynamite cast and amazing techies both backstage and in the booth. I was blessed with the perfect storm of both great actors and techies. They made this a truly great production to be a part of and experience as an audience."

TURNING THE TIDE

On COVID-19

"Unprecedented, unparalleled, uncommon, unbelievable, and the list of "un's" could go on and on." So began President Favara's announcement regarding Central's response to the COVID-19 crisis.

The 2020 semester began like so many others. COVID-19 was barely a story on the headline news, as spring classes started and seniors looked forward to their final semester. That ordinary start was forever transformed with the emergence of the COVID-19 pandemic. Its arrival derailed the very definitions of normal, traditional, and routine.

By mid-March, it was clear that mitigation strategies would become necessary. Students, leaving for Spring Break, were told to plan for an extended stay away from campus, as College leadership discerned the climate of the nation. While the original plan was to provide short-term remote teaching, the spread of COVID-19 forced the College to retain remote learning through the rest of the semester.

From the onset, President Favara reassured the student body, saying, "We will be working diligently on your behalf. You can rest assured that though the times are uncertain God remains faithful and Central Christian College stands with you...through His grace we will weather this storm".

And weather the storm we did. From students accessing coursework through remote channels, faculty who turned-on-a-dime to ensure rigor and value remained at the forefront of the learning experience, coaches sharing testimonies and inspirational videos, to staff working from living rooms and kitchens – in every way, the CCK family huddled together and demonstrated the very essence of the character qualities we seek to instill in the lives of every student.

Unfortunately, with the suspension of residential operations, commencement was also postponed, uprooting the traditions and rituals that normally mark the transition from College. However, the Class of 2020 has reminded us that it is not the conventions of culture that define us, but the character within. It is not the robe, nor the tassel – it is not the march, nor the speeches, it is not even the paper that declares the journey complete – no ceremony or diploma can capture the type of character that has described this special class of students. In faith, we look to celebrate their achievements this fall, as part of Homecoming.

Currently, College leadership is planning on resuming residential operations this fall, albeit with a few modifications to ensure stability of operations in light of COVID-19. The primary concern is ensuring that the College has sufficient scholarship dollars to assist those students who were negatively affected by the recent pandemic. The CCK Foundation is assisting the College in its efforts to raise additional scholarship funds.

In the meantime, College leadership is rejoicing in God's provisions and protections during this unique period in its history. This is not the first challenge to confront this great institution or the God we serve. We look forward to see how God uses this situation and this institution to forward our shared vision.

A LOVING LEGACY

In the life of any organization, there are individuals whom, for whatever reason, might go largely unnoticed, but truly have a profound effect. These unsung heroes are often those who, quietly, almost silently, influence the institution, ensuring the success of its mission.

Marie (Scittine) Sellberg was one of those heroes.

Marie served as the Administrative Assistant to Presidents Whiteman and Parsons from 1954–1964 and impacted faculty, staff, and students through her love for people and the skills she brought to her position. She was known for her tireless commitment to education and students.

Marie attended Central Academy from 1943–1945 and it was during this time she met fellow student, Marvin Sellberg. A romance blossomed, and following graduation Marvin and Marie were married. They returned to Central as staff, where together they invested into the lives of young people, building a legacy for many years to come.

Working for the college was more than just a job to Marie. She viewed the students and co-workers as part of her family. As such, she engaged each and every person with a joyful heart, embracing them with a love that truly reflected the love she shared with her Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

Marie knew everyone and built strong relationships through the years. President Parsons in particular had a deep appreciation for Marie's attention to the communications she would write on behalf of the College. Her work reflected a harmonious balance between professionalism and a sincere appreciation for the individual. Whether it be student, president, superintendent, or bishop, all were treated with great respect, dignity, and regard, with an ample portion of tender-heartedness thrown in for good measure.

If that were not enough, Marie also served as the "team mom" for the men's basketball team which Marvin coached for 12 years. She loved being a coach's wife and having the boys in their home for meals. Bob Burns (Men's Basketball '61 - '63) recalls, "Marie Sellberg was in a class by herself when I was a student-athlete at Central College. She not only was President Parson's administrative assistant, she was like a mother to many of the guys that played for Coach Sellberg. Mrs. Sellberg always carried herself with dignity and class. She was an excellent role model for the young coeds; a consummate Christian example in every way!"

In addition to her role at the College, Marie was committed to her family and children, Marcia, Marlene and Martin (Marty) Sellberg. Her son Marty recalls, "Although I was very young during her time at Central, my memories are vivid. It was a time of happiness and growth at 214 W. Ave F, and at Central College. In my young mind, the seasons were defined by the most important things of life at the time – basketball practice, basketball season, basketball recruiting, and farming.

Tying that together was the rhythm of student life and education at Central. The images of post-game meals prepared for the team by Marie at our home, the hum and flow of students around the Tiger Den, and my mother working late under a desk lamp at home, or at her desk at the Dean's Office, are forever pleasantly etched in my mind.

Central Christian College has been part of and an influence on our family for generations, and Marie gave her best to the mission of the college during her time there. I am pleased to support the important mission of Christian education that is executed so well by Central Christian College in honor of Marie Sellberg."

No matter the role, Marie consistently blended skill, elegance, and character. "It was a wonder to watch her work" commented husband and partner in ministry Marvin Sellberg. "She was a talented lady, with a strong work ethic and classy demeanor."

ROLE, MARIE
CONSISTENTLY
BLENDED SKILL, ELEGANCE, AND

Marie was 78 years old when she entered into her eternal rest in 2004.

In memory of her time at Central Christian College of Kansas and the critical role she filled as an Administrative Assistant, Marie's children took advantage of the Tiger Tribute Campaign to honor her work.

So, sixty-six years after she first stepped foot into the Office of the President as a young professional, her name – and her legacy – are now enshrined on a plaque hanging outside that same office.

President Leonard Favara is one person who is reminded of that daily, saying, "Every day, as I walk into my office, I see Marie's name outside my door. It reminds me that it is not just the President, the Board, or the officers that propel the mission of the College. It is the work of every individual – administrative assistants, clerks, coaches, teachers, cooks, – these are the people that ignite the heartbeat of this College, people like Marie who faithfully invested into the mission of this College. I am honored to have her name memorialized here, and I am thankful for her work, and the work of countless others that served as she did."
